Brain Awareness Keynote Address

Imaging the Addicted Brain

Tuesday • March 18 • 4:00 - 5:00 p.m.

208 Light Hall • Vanderbilt University

Dr. Nora Volkow

*Associate Laboratory Director for Life Sciences
Brookhaven National Laboratory*

Imaging allows us to view the living, working brain as never before. Join us for a fascinating talk about how state-of-the-art imaging technologies are expanding our knowledge about the brain under the influence of addictive substances.

Reception immediately following the presentation

Co-sponsored by the Vanderbilt Center for Molecular Neuroscience, the Vanderbilt Institute of Imaging Science, and the Vanderbilt Brain Institute

Parking is available in the 25th Avenue garage at the corner of Highland Avenue and 25th Avenue South for $1.00.
